Are you a researcher?
Do you want more information and support about issues related to your role as a researcher?
Do you want to meet with other researchers across the University of Manchester and discuss experiences and challenges?

Then join your Research Staff Association
The Manchester Research Staff Association (RSA) was set up in 2011 to represent and support research staff from all four faculties at the University of Manchester. The Manchester RSA:

• Allows researchers to meet up with other researchers to share and discuss information and issues related to their employment at the university
• Provides feedback to the University of Manchester about the needs of research staff

Meetings and socials

Monthly meetings
• Featuring invited speakers including topics such as: short-term contracts, REF 2014, getting teaching experience, fellowships...
• Researchers can raise issues about any aspect of being a member of research staff and suggest topics or speakers for future sessions

Socials
• Every 3 months. Come along to meet other researchers. See our website for more information about meetings and socials.

Get involved...
The Manchester RSA is run by volunteers from the university’s research staff. All research staff are welcome to come to meetings to listen or to volunteer suggestions or to help organise a meeting.
